SUMMARY OF MESSAGE

Last week we started a series called "Clean House" and we encouraged students to begin to address the mess in their lives. Tonight we are going to talk about some of the external benefits that confession has in our life. So often others only see the fake picture perfect side of faith but when we allow others to see the process God has us in, then he is able to use our process to become their progress. Tonight we are going to challenge students to share their story with a friend and invite them to attend our house party. For those students who don't feel like they are up for that challenge we simply want them to invite some one to come with them next week.

SMALL GROUP QUESTIONS

1. How would your friends answer the question, "What does it look like to be a Christian?"
2. If I asked your friends why you go to church what would they say?
3. When is a time that you had a "me too" moment?
4. How can you make your mess a message?
